

Hints for WOODRUFF

and the Schnibble of Azimuth

If you're feeling a bit lost, here are the most important things to do as well as the order they have to be done in.

Start by finding yourself a pair of boots, then some money. After that, find a bluxtrenut and some bluxtren pulp. Once you've done that, go and meet all the Wisemen at the temple or elsewhere. Get yourself hired at the factory so you can go to the asylum and then to the High Morals club. Give the Wisemen back their Syllables so that the Council can be convened. Then get yourself hired at the prison so you can meet Azimuth. Go to the Party to seduce Miss Coh Cott. And finish by neutralizing Bigwig.

MORE PRECISELY

If you only have one boot

One boot alone won't get you anywhere. You might as well throw it away...on the roof of Azimuth's house.

If you don't have any money

Get rid of that noisy flipper.

If you don't know how to read

Through one of the Professor's fans, find the article from which the photo of Azimuth was taken, and give it to your school teacher.

If you don't know how to use the weather

To enable you to locate any perturbations, listen carefully to the tobozon. Then take out your meteozon watch in the part of the city involved : it is extremely precise.

If you don't have any bluxtren nuts

Be charitable, give a meteorite chip to the boss of the Virtual trip to steady his chest.

If you don't have any bluxtre pulp

Find a way to secure the bluxtre nut and let a big meteorite squash it.

If the recruiter doesn't like you

Don't hesitate to dress up and to top it off, look for a smile with yellow teeth. Then put your most delightful photo in the slot of the tobozon.

If you can't get yourself hired at the prison

Give one of your portraits to the wino.

You haven't got the Temporal syllable

Water the Troag Clock with rain water once you have stopped the leak. But don't leave anything behind you that could be used afterwards.

To go back into the past

Bring the commander back to life by chanting one of your magic formulae on his statue.

You haven't met the Master yet

Locate his ancestor on the battle field who is not in good shape but who hasn't lost his ear for music.

To make the Master speak at the Administrative Centre look at the graffiti.

You don't have the Artistic Syllable

Listen to the diva sing at the Censors club.

You don't have any accessories for the Special Eye Party

Be discriminate towards a cheater and go down one floor.

You haven't met Azimuth

Keep the gaolers busy and offer the kite to the wind of the Tower.

You don't know how to levitate

Meet up with the Master five times. Don't hesitate to handle a certain switch.